

Romans 8:31

“What shall we then say to these things?” Before we can respond to these "things" we need to know what they are. Paul is referring to doctrine explained previously in Romans. He is referring to salvation from our guilt (chapters 3-8), our justification (chapters 1-4), and our hope in Christ (chapters 5-8). We must respond to the Spirit's work within us to set us free from the power of our sin (chapter 7). He also mentions the promise of no condemnation, the provision of the Holy Spirit, and God's plan in salvation (chapter 8). In Paul's logical building of thought in this book, He now reaches the pinnacle of the Christian position in Christ (Romans 8:31-39).

God is for believers; He is on our side! He will accomplish His eternal plan of "good" in us (verses 28-30). Since God is on our side, who can be successful in standing against us? No one! Circumstances and people will be against us, but they are powerless compared to God who is on our side. Paul concludes his 8 chapter argument with rhetorical questions that have no answer. This is comforting because with God on our side, the opposition has no answer for His matchless love and power.

1. What is revealed about God in this verse?

2. What is revealed about you in this verse?

3. What is God trying to teach you about your position as His child through this verse?

4. Specifically, what needs to change in your actions and/or thought patterns in order to glorify God by living out this position as His child?

Write out one personal goal of action to better live out these truths this week; Be specific.

Romans 8:31

“What shall we then say to these things?” Before we can respond to these "things" we need to know what they are. Paul is referring to doctrine explained previously in Romans. He is referring to salvation from our guilt (chapters 3-8), our justification (chapters 1-4), and our hope in Christ (chapters 5-8). We must respond to the Spirit's work within us to set us free from the power of our sin (chapter 7). He also mentions the promise of no condemnation, the provision of the Holy Spirit, and God's plan in salvation (chapter 8). In Paul's logical building of thought in this book, He now reaches the pinnacle of the Christian position in Christ (Romans 8:31-39).

God is for believers; He is on our side! He will accomplish His eternal plan of "good" in us (verses 28-30). Since God is on our side, who can be successful in standing against us? No one! Circumstances and people will be against us, but they are powerless compared to God who is on our side. Paul concludes his 8 chapter argument with rhetorical questions that have no answer. This is comforting because with God on our side, the opposition has no answer for His matchless love and power.

1. What is revealed about God in this verse?

2. What is revealed about you in this verse?

3. What is God trying to teach you about your position as His child through this verse?

4. Specifically, what needs to change in your actions and/or thought patterns in order to glorify God by living out this position as His child?

Write out one personal goal of action to better live out these truths this week; Be specific.